Clarence Dennis, M.D.
Director
Cancer Detection Center
University of Minnesota
Minneapolis, MN 55455

Dear Dr. Dennis:

I am never quite sure what to do with your Cancer Detection Center letter, which I find somewhat offensive. I practice general Internal Medicine in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and have been performing routine cancer detection physicals for the last 20 years. I do not see that your Cancer Detection Center does anything different than I am capable of doing, yet my patient continues to come to your institution rather than seeing me for this purpose.

If you can think of a good reason why this process should continue, I would appreciate your letting me know it. I have, by the way, taken the liberty of making arrangements to see my patient for follow-up on her lipids.

I look forward to hearing from you regarding my question.

Sincerely,

Louis H. Frase, M.D.
